

Executive 71CM

Executive
FILLER METALS

Exceptional all position flux cored performance.

Executive 71CM is a low fume, all position carbon steel flux cored wire designed to increase total productivity while helping to reduce welding costs. Low spatter levels and easy to remove slag helps produce great, clean welds that require minimal clean-up.

Executive 71CM is a new generation of flux cored wire that produces very low fume which increases arc visibility. This wire is easy to weld, with very smooth arc characteristics allowing for excellent operator appeal.

Favored by welders using this wire for structural steel, transportation, mining applications, agricultural product manufacturing, and general fabrication.

Certified test reports that include certification to CWB, ABS and AWS D1.8 for critical seismic applications with actual chemistry and mechanicals for both 100% CO₂ and 75% Ar / 25% CO₂ shielding gases are provided with each lot, which is unique in the industry.

Executive 71CM Advantages

- Easy to remove slag
- Great mechanical properties
- Low fume characteristics
- Superior out of position welding
- For seismic applications